

LOCAL COMMITTEE TO AID RECOVERY DRIVE IN BRISTOL

Richard W. French Calls A
Meeting for Wednesday Evening

IN TRAVEL CLUB HOME

Invites Industrial Heads And Business Men To Attend

While messages continued to pour into Washington from all parts of the country today, indicating that the nation has lined up solidly behind the President's Emergency Re-employment Campaign, the Bristol committee was receiving pledges of 100 percent support from the citizenry of this community.

A meeting of those in Bristol who are interested in this movement has been called for Wednesday evening in the Bristol Travel Club Home, Cedar street, between Walnut and Mulberry streets. The time of the meeting has been set for eight o'clock and heads of industrial concerns and business places or their authorized representatives are invited to attend.

All are urged to be present at this first meeting so that the Recovery Act activities can get a good start.

"America has gone to war," said Richard W. French, chairman of the local organization of the National Recovery Administration drive. "Yes, that's exactly what has happened. We are at war against as cruel and malicious an enemy as ever attempted to riddle Old Glory. Just think for a moment of the suffering and death that have come from this frightful depression of the last four years.

"We simply must get our people back to work," continued Mr. French, "and this present drive will do it. Here in Bristol we hear words of praise and encouragement on every hand from those who have studied the plans and realize that they are practicable and economically sound. I refer, of course, to the two plans for the adoption of the industrial codes and the so-called blanket code.

"Very briefly the situation may be explained in this way: In order to build up the nation's buying power to keep pace with the increasing commodity prices, there must be wholesale re-employment—not sometime in the near future but right now. So President Roosevelt, acting under the Industrial Recovery Act, first entrusted to General Hugh S. Johnson the organization of the vast task of working out acceptable industrial codes. This work has been progressing rapidly and satisfactorily. Then in order to speed things up still more and get men back to work more quickly throughout the nation, thus raising the mass buying power to keep pace with increasing commodity prices, President Roosevelt has inaugurated the blanket code. This was quite fully gone into in his recent nation-wide radio address. Substantially all concerns employing two or more persons are asked to join up with the President in a covenant to maintain wages at least to a certain minimum level and restrict working hours within certain limitations.

"Every employer who signs this solemn agreement with the President of the United States will immediately have the right to display the N. R. A. emblem in his place of business and on his merchandise, too, if he desires. "This will notify the public just what places of business have fallen in line with this tremendously important national patriotic movement, and all such firms are, of course, entitled to the same loyal consideration from the general public that would be theirs were we actually at war with an outside enemy and these firms had by some fine display of patriotism shown special loyalty to the Commander of the Army and Navy.

"The members of our local organization here in Bristol have taken off our coats, rolled up our sleeves and we have pledged the Administration in Washington to work to the limit of our ability to get every working man and working woman in Bristol back to work before many more weeks. "We are getting wonderful encouragement and I am sure that I shall have the honor of reporting to President Roosevelt and Recovery Administrator Johnson that Bristol has no slackers in this great drive to put an end to the depression and all the misery and suffering that have gone with it.

"Yes, America has gone to war—and, as usual, America will win."

INDELICATO UNDER BAIL ON AUTO ROBBERY CHARGE

Denies His Guilt and Makes Threat To Be A
"Rat"

MAY INVOLVE OTHERS

The seventh arrest in connection with the alleged robbery of the automobile of a salesman on Trenton avenue, December 20, 1932, was made late yesterday and the prisoner given a preliminary hearing this morning before Justice of Peace James Guy, in the Municipal Court.

"Al" Indelicato, 7016 Trenton avenue, better known as "Yi-Yi", was held in $1,000 bail charged with the theft of wearing apparel and jewelry valued at $1,000 from the auto of Louis Newman, 573 N. Clinton avenue, Trenton, N. J., the auto having been parked by a salesman for Newman who was in the house of Bessie Lasparella, 1028 Trenton avenue, selling merchandise.

Indelicato gave himself up to the police yesterday.

He is already under $1,000 bail on a charge of assault and battery.

At the hearing this morning Indelicato denied his guilt and yelled out in open court that one of the witnesses was a "liar." He also interrupted the court proceedings by stating "I don't want to be a rat; but I'll be one and tell some other things."

Bucks County Detective Anthony Russo immediately informed Indelicato that he would be glad to take any statement he might desire to make and that the defendant could make such statement in writing and even in the presence of an attorney if he so desired.

At the hearing this morning Detective Russo produced two signed statements from Fred Lasparella, 1028 Trenton avenue and Albert Mancini, 1106 Wood street, in which they both alleged that one night shortly before Christmas in 1932 they met Indelicato who asked them to carry some packages to the home of Mrs. Margaret Mauro, 1016 Trenton avenue. The statements said that the packages were placed in the garret at the Mauro home.

The following day they met Indelicato near the railroad on Trenton avenue and at his request went to the Mauro home, got two suitcases and carried them to him after which he left in the direction of Trenton.

John (Sparky) Marchetti, New Brook street, testified that he also went to the Mauro house on the morning following the alleged robbery and at Indelicato's request assisted in carrying some suitcases to him at the railroad.

RAIN VERY BENEFICIAL TO FARM AND TRUCK CROPS, DE CLARES COUNTY FARM AGENT WILLIAM F. GREENAWALT

Some Were Unprepared, Having Oats Harvest in Fields

POTATOES ARE HELPED

Celery Will Be Greatly Aided
By the Rain, He Says

The rain of Thursday evening, while doing much damage throughout Bucks County, also did much good, according to a survey made yesterday by County Farm Agent William F. Greenawalt. "It was very beneficial to farm and truck crops, especially field and sweet corn, which had started to suffer because of the heat and drought."

Commenting on the rains, Mr. Greenawalt stated that as a result of the heat and the dry weather the corn started to curl in the leaf and had the drought remained unbroken for some time, it would have seriously affected the growth of the corn.

Some farmers, however, were caught unprepared for the rain, a number of them having been in the midst of the oats harvest. Most of the wheat crop was stored several weeks ago.

The rain proved very helpful to the potato crop which had begun to suffer. Vines on the early crop, including the Cobler variety, died before the potatoes were fully developed and as a result the yield of this variety was somewhat curtailed. The later crops, including the Russet and Green Mountain varieties, would have met the same fate had there been no rain for several more weeks. As a result of the rain it is believed the yield of the later crop of potatoes will be brought up to normal.

Lima beans also were beginning to suffer as a result of the drought. While the pods were fairly well filled, there would have been a much better yield had there been more rain. The rain, it is believed, will result in a greater production in the bean crop. During the past few weeks truckers were engaged in setting out the celery plants. This vegetable requires a large amount of moisture and as a result of the rain this vegetable has been helped to a large extent.

Commenting further upon the benefit of the rain, Mr. Greenawalt stated that orchardists welcomed the down-pour. Apple trees were beginning to show the effect of the drought. It is believed the rain will result in an increased size of the fruit.

A number of farmers were unable to plow because of the soil being too dry. A number of farmers who complete their wheat and oats harvest early in the summer begin immediately after the harvest to plow for the fall seeding, but because of the dry weather they were unable to do this. Others desired to plow in order to sow alfalfa during the middle of this month, but they too were unable to do this.

The tomato crop, according to Mr. Greenawalt, has not been suffering to a great extent as a result of the drought. Because of the wet and cold weather this Spring, truckers were late in setting out their tomatoes, and consequently the vines were not developed to a great extent. The tomato harvest this Fall will be about two weeks later than usual.

August 20th; Financial Campaign in Fall

FURNISHINGS ARRANGED

NEWTOWN, Aug. 5.—Appropriate ceremonies will mark the placing of the cornerstone for the new Presbyterian Church building, here, on the afternoon of Sunday, August 20. Time of the ceremony will be three o'clock. It is announced that the financial campaign for funding the remaining amount necessary for the new building will not be launched until sometime this Fall. For those who contribute between now and the laying of the cornerstone, however, the privilege of signing the roll of first donors will be granted. This roll, copies of the local papers, a small Bible, and other interesting data will be sealed in the stone.

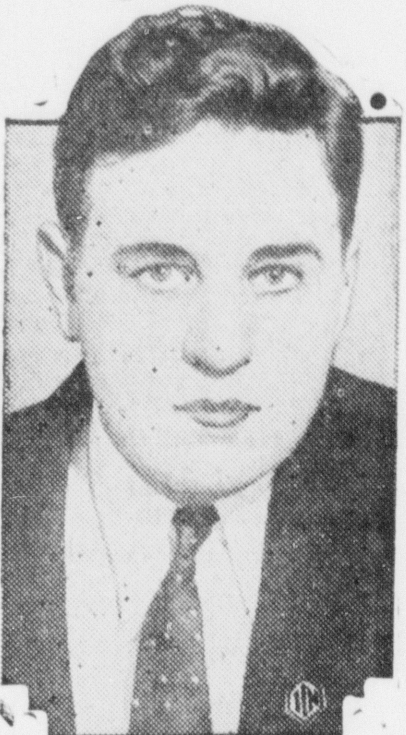

Announcement was also made concerning the provision that had been made for the designation of pews and other furnishings as memorials or gifts. Some of the furnishings have already been provided for.

On account of the inability to secure the Avondale Face Stone in sufficiently large sizes the building will be constructed of Holmesburg Granite in a range of colors, the brown predominating.

133 COUPLES GRANTED LICENSES TO WED, JULY

Total is Above Average for That Month; May Be A Record-Breaking Year

14 WERE DIVORCEES

DOYLESTOWN, Aug. 5.—A total of 133 couples applied for marriage licenses at the office of the Clerk of Orphans Court, here, during the month of July, this being above the average for July.

Clerk of Orphans' Court John Thompson, of Point Pleasant, says that at the rate licenses were issued in July, 1933 will be another record-breaking year for Bucks county.

Changes being completed now in the Orphans' Court office will give couples applying for licenses more privacy. When business is brisk and eight or ten couples are lined up waiting for turns, it sometimes becomes embarrassing to the more timid individuals. A separate room has been built for the express purpose of issuing licenses. One couple will be admitted at a time while others will be comfortably cared for outside in the general office.

Sixty-five per cent of the licenses granted in July went to non-residents of Bucks county. Bristol Borough furnished the largest number of applicants with sixteen, while Doylestown had four.

Fifty-two applicants came from Philadelphia. Seven states were represented.

There were eight divorced men and six divorced women in the group who received licenses in July. Sixty-two of the female applicants had occupations other than housework.

There were more applicants between twenty-one and twenty-five years of age than in any other age range. Only four of the male applicants were under twenty-one.

The following is a table of applicants according to age range:

	Men	Women
Under 21 years	4	12
21 to 25 years	63	83
25 to 30 years	34	19
30 to 40 years	24	17
40 to 50 years	7	2
50 to 60 years	1	0

"BOMBING" EXCHANGE A PUBLICITY STUNT

Boston, Aug. 5.—The tear gas bombing of the New York Stock Exchange was a publicity stunt of a budding political party—the Commoners' Party—in the opinion of police and federal authorities.

While four of his "political lieutenants" were under arrest here, Eugene S. Daniel, Jr., Harvard graduate, wrestling champion and candidate for president on a sticker, was arrested in a hotel in New York, police were advised.

Attention was focussed on Daniel because discovery was made that he had written a letter to a friend in New York City, seeking a pass to the New York Stock Exchange, the grain pit or the curb, for the purpose of a publicity plan.

TRUCE EFFECTED

Hyde Park, N. Y., Aug. 5.—A truce between capital and labor, embracing a general moratorium on strikes and lock-outs, pending establishment of his recovery code, has been effected by President Roosevelt. It was learned today, shortly before his recovery administrator, General H. S. Johnson, left Hyde Park for Washington.

At the President's instance according to information from reliable sources, both workers and employers have promised to remain at peace and move forward as a single unit until the chief executive's great recovery machine is operating at full speed.

Announcement of the industrial armistice will be formally made in a few hours it was said. It was signalled by the President's settlement of the bitter dispute in Pennsylvania's bituminous coal fields. President Roosevelt hoped that the impetus supplied by the peace between elements that in the past have been constantly at war will bring an extended permanent truce at the same source.

Johnson brought detailed plans of both the general truce and the coal settlement here in a dramatic night airplane flight.

CHICAGO, Ill., Aug. 5.—America's first projected conquest of the stratosphere ended in failure here early today, when Lt. Commander T. G. W. Settle, United States Navy, was forced down within 20 minutes after his ascent from Soldier Field.

The daring naval officer from Akron, O., miraculously escaped serious injuries when failure of a gas valve forced him down on the West Side railroad yards, barely missing the Chicago River at 14th street.

He sustained a severe bruise over the right eye, but refused to go to a hospital for examination.

GARDEN CLUB HAS AN INSTRUCTIVE MEETING

Women Hear of "China's Contribution To Our Gardens"

PLAN ZINNIA EXHIBIT

The Garden Section of Bristol Travel Club held its August meeting on the lawn of the home of Mrs. Armand V. Morris, Radcliffe street, yesterday afternoon, the ivy-grown terrace and green lawn providing a delightful and appropriate spot for such a gathering.

Mrs. Earl H. Tomb, chairman, opened the meeting by reading a garden verse from Percival's "Language of Flowers." Mrs. Frank Lehman then reported on the gratifying results accomplished by the local beautification committee.

The problem of a municipal beach was presented for consideration.

Mrs. Griffith L. Williams briefly reported on the zinnia exhibit to be held at the home of Mrs. Thomas G. Hawkes, Edgely, September 1st. The seeds were distributed by a well-known seed company, and the zinnias to be displayed are ones grown from said seeds. The classification of entries was read, and will be made public later.

Mr. Eckhart, a representative of a New Jersey nursery, spoke briefly on "Fragrance in the Garden," suggesting plants, flowers, and providing a reference bibliography in helping provide this attribute.

A fascinating story of "China's Contribution to Our Gardens" was told by Mrs. J. V. Hare, Trevoise. The rambling rose (monthly rose credited to India, though China deserves the honor), peony, chrysanthemum, real lily, many trees and herbs owe their genesis to China; fruits, such as the orange, plum, pear, and the less known Ju Juke came from China, as well as the ornamental shrubs, Forsythia, lilac and spirea.

In presenting her subject Mrs. Hare quoted from the writings of Ernest H. Wilson. Mrs. J. J. Williamson later added a note of interest by telling of his discovery of the regal lily, as the result of an accident. It was told that Canton gardens of the past grew many flowers that help to make our gardens today, and study is being made of China's trees in America from the standpoint of both beauty and economic advantage.

The work of women's clubs in Bristol and Langhorne in regard to contributions for "Flowers for the Flowerless" was mentioned by Mrs. William, this section surpassing many other districts which weekly send flowers to Philadelphia's ill and shut-ins.

Huge Strike of Coal Miners Is Dramatically Ended

By Edward B. Lockett

(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)
HYDE PARK, N. Y., Aug. 5.—(INS)—President Roosevelt early today announced the end of the Pennsylvania coal strike, declaring never before had a strike of such proportions been settled so quickly.

The chief executive's announcement brought his recovery program through its first big test successfully and a coal strike which threatened to throw 200,000 men out of work and had already made idle 70,000 workers, was at least temporarily settled through its efforts.

With Mr. Roosevelt constantly in touch by phone, the President's recovery administrator, Hugh S. Johnson, did the job. Culmination came when Johnson dramatically flew here by night from Washington to obtain presidential approval of the settlement.

The President and Johnson settled the coal dispute by the simple method of telling all the factions concerned to begin operations immediately and continue to "carry on" until some sort of code could be agreed upon. Johnson fixed August 8, next Tuesday, as the day when hearings before his industrial board leading to drafting of this code, will begin.

Prior to agreement on a code, all disagreements are to be settled, the President announced, by a board to which both operators and miners in the coal strike agreed. Personnel of the board will include Gerard Swope, of the General Electric Co., Louis Kirstein, of the firm of Filene and Son, of Boston, and George L. Berry, of Nashville, Tenn., head of the Pressmen's Union.

Both coal operators and miners agreed to the agreement as worked out by the President and Johnson. John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers of America, was notified shortly after midnight from here that Mr. Roosevelt heartily approved of the settlement.

Mr. and Mrs. Alec Sitzer, Mrs. Clara Brown and son Walter, Philadelphia, were Thursday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Whiteley, Jefferson avenue.

PROTECTING DRY STATES

Attorney General Cummings' statement that in event of repeal of the Eighteenth Amendment the Federal Government will do its utmost to protect dry states against importations of liquor from wet areas gives proper recognition to the duty that will rest upon Federal authorities.

With repeal becoming more probable almost day by day, it is well that some attention be given to the situation that would prevail following erasure of the dry amendment. The Attorney General pointed out a clause in the proposed repeal amendment, which has received no great amount of public attention. It would prohibit the transportation or importation of intoxicating liquors in violation of state laws. In other words, states which preferred to remain dry and so recorded themselves would have the assistance of the national government in keeping liquor from entering their borders.

Even the fact that a state had ratified the repeal proposal would not prevent it from remaining or subsequently becoming dry. An example of this is supplied by West Virginia. This state has ratified the amendment, but if the necessary number of states to make the latter effective should act this year, which now seems probable, West Virginia would remain dry unless and until the dry amendment in its own constitution be repealed. This can not be done before the general election next year, at which time it will be an issue. Until then, at least, West Virginia would be dry, and it would be the duty of Federal authorities to help in keeping it dry.

Mr. Cummings, of course, cannot speak for subsequent administration of his office. In pledging his own official efforts to the protection of dry states—if there should be any—he has gone as far as he can. We believe, though, that public opinion would compel any future department of justice heads to guard against any laxity in enforcement of the law relating to dry states.

STEAM STILL SERVES

So much ado has been made in recent years about hydro-electric development that the public had unconsciously come to the conclusion that production of electric power by steam was a thing of the past and that within a few more years the entire country would be served by wires stretching out from huge power dams. The Federal Power Commission now points out the fallacy of such a conclusion.

Hydro-electric production is lagging behind the steam electric plant. Hydropower showed no gain in the last five years, but the output of steam plants increased by nearly 10,000,000 kilowatt hours. This year is expected to show a smaller output of hydro-electric power than last year, due to wider use of steam by power companies.

Government surveys prove that even where water power is abundant and readily available the steam plant is gaining in importance and demonstrating its ability to compete with the hydro plant.

It is still a fact, however, that the highest per capita consumption of electric power is in those regions which have best harnessed the white coal of the waterfall, and that hydro-electric plants have reduced electric rates in some sections.

Economic Performance Of Ford V-8 Shown in Long Run

An official certificate attesting to the highly economical performance record made by a Ford V-8 during a 5,022-mile economy run in Washington, D. C., and on the famous Mt. Vernon Memorial highway has just been issued by the Contest Board of the American Automobile Association. The certificate is signed by E. V. Rickenbacker, famous war-time ace and chairman of the contest board.

Briefly, the Ford's record, as certified by the Board, was: Fuel consumed: 222.89 gallons, or at the rate of 22.53 miles per gallon. Oil consumed: 1.578 gallons, or at the rate of 3,182.57 miles per gallon.

The test was in charge of Chester S. Ricker for the contest board, with P.

W. Lewis, technical representative, assisting; Ricker, Lewis and T. E. Allen, secretary of the board, also signed the certificate.

The economy run was entirely in charge of contest board personnel and was made with a strictly stock Ford car. Sent on its way by United States Senator R. R. Reynolds, of North Carolina, the crew operated the car day and night for more than seven days, both on Washington streets and the superb motor highway which connects the Capital with Mount Vernon, the colonial home of George Washington on the bank of the Potomac river.

During the entire run the Ford functioned perfectly. No mechanical adjustments were required. The crankcase was filled with new oil after every 1,000 miles, but no additional oil was required. After the initial filling at the start of the run no additional water was required in the radiator. The Board's certificate shows that the run was made at an average speed of 27.468 miles per hour. The speed was less in city streets and greater along the Mt. Vernon Highway.

The Capital test only served to confirm the results in similar dealer runs during the last few weeks in many parts of the United States. In these tests, sometimes in the face of heavy traffic conditions, Ford V-8 cars registered an average fuel economy ranging from more than 18.5 miles per gallon to 20.25 miles per gallon. In all cases the only oil required was the regular change each 1,000 miles.

Fuel economy demonstrations established in these different runs vary slightly because of the difference in the terrain covered and the speeds at which the runs were made. Some of these results were:

Place	Mileage	gallon
Buffalo, N. Y.	10,000	18.51
Philadelphia, Pa. . .	9,680	19.29
Des Moines, Iowa . .	10,000	19.66
Bartlesville, Okla. . .	10,054	18.8
Omaha, Neb.	10,148	20.25

Other such demonstrations are now in progress in Dallas, Tex., and Seattle, Wash. The Ford in the Dallas run already has completed 30,000 miles, covering a route touching 55 dealer points in surrounding cities. A total of 1,008 miles is covered every 24 hours. In order to maintain this schedule the test car is required to average 60 to 65 miles per hour during part of each day, yet despite this, no additional oil is required except the regular filling each 1,000 miles.

TULLYTOWN

Plans are being made by Ladies' Aid Society of Tullytown M. E. Church for its annual harvest home chicken supper on the church lawn, Wednesday, August 30th. This supper is always well attended due to the fine days on account of illness.

By HARRISON CARROLL.

HOLLYWOOD, 00.—Judging by the picture plans for her, Broadway has lost Alice Brady for keeps.

She not only is scheduled to do "The Vinegar Tree" after "Stage Mother," but Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer has just bought "It Happened One Day" for a future Brady vehicle.

This novel by Marjorie Bartholomew Paradise tells the series of crises that face the members of a New York family between the hours of eight and five of a single day.

Miss Brady's part is that of the mother of two girls and a boy. The father of the story, they'll tell you, simply cries to be played by Lionel Barrymore.

Meanwhile, Alice has given up her apartment and rented the proverbial house in Beverly Hills. There she lives quietly—if a household with four dogs can be considered quiet. One almost never sees her in filmland's favorite haunts.

Chester Morris tells this one about the visit he and Dick Arlen paid to the insane asylum in Oregon. They were about half way through when one of the inmates approached the superintendent who was guiding the party. He tapped the official on the shoulder.

"You're crazy one," he said. "You've got keys to get out of here and still you stay."

HOLLYWOOD PARADE:

His success in the decorating business is not the only reason why Bill Haines is making no more pictures. Most people don't know that Bill still draws a weekly pay check from Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer—and will until September.

Mary Pickford gave a party, her first since the separation from Douglas Fairbanks became known.

menu which the women of the Tullytown church serve. Supper will be served from five until eight o'clock.

Mrs. Samuel Parker, Trenton, N. J., was a visitor of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Carlen, Tuesday.

Mrs. Wallace White has been confined to her home for the past few days well attended due to the fine days on account of illness.

All you hear is vacation plans. Nancy Carroll has sailed for Honolulu, Jobyna Ralston and Dick Arlen are plotting a trip to Europe when he finishes a couple more pictures. Incidentally, Dick's troubles with Paramount are all straightened out. He has signed his new contract. It calls for only five pictures a year.

Constance Talmadge is giving a "kiddy" party for Carmen Pantages Considine. The Considines are expecting an addition to the family in November, you know. . . . Dick Powell still isn't strong enough to stay up late, but he and Mary Brian were having dinner at the Brown Derby the other evening. . . . Henry De Soto, popular Hollywood Maitre d'Hotel, is in the Wilshire Hospital for an operation on his shoulder. Dr. Frank Nolan says he'll be all right.

Latest gesture of the young-men-about-Hollywood is to send the lady a lei of gardenias instead of a corsage. . . . Most ambitious of the cinema swains, it would seem, is David Manners. In a single day he was seen lunching with Peggy Fears, swimming with Bessie Lasky and dining with the Countess di Frasso.

At least one Hollywood host will tell you it's time to batten down the furniture when Major Ernst Udet and Dance Director Leroy Prinz start to describe the war-time dog-fight in which the Major's squadron downed Prinz' plane over Flanders' fields. . . . And one of the louder laughs at the M. G. M.'s luncheon to the visiting Governors was when Will Rogers cracked: "I never expected to see the day when Louis B. Mayer would feed this many Democrats."

you should know

YOU like to know names that everybody knows — name of the man who tied lightning to a kite; name of the man who watched a teakettle and went out and made an engine. Just knowing such names gives you pleasure.

Yet there are names that thousands of people know that can give you much more pleasure in a much more personal way. Names that stand for the best things to eat, to wear, to sleep on. Names, that if connected with the salad dressing, hat, fountain pen you select—or any other desirable thing—mean it is most desirable. Names written large in ADVERSISEMENTS.

Advertisements tell why those are wise names for you to know. Why such names greet you in the best grocery, department and hardware stores. Why those names are in the buying vocabulary of thousands . . . are believed in by thousands . . . justify belief!

Read the advertisements. Don't ask vaguely in a store for "cold cream," "a skillet," "a vacuum cleaner." Ask for So-and-So's Cold Cream, So-and-So's Skillet, So-and-So's Vacuum Cleaner. Use the names, you have learned through advertisements, that stand for the product that means most to you and most to everybody.

VELVET FOR COATS. AND GOWNS TO BE FEATURE FOR FALL

By Alice Langelier

(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)
PARIS—(INS)—This is going to be a very velvety winter from all reports coming from the big couturiers. For, not only are they using it for coats, gowns and trim, but every chic modiste is going in for velvet in some way or another.

Of course, it was only to be expected, with the big luxury wave coming on, that velvet should join in with all the lovely lustrous satins, old-fashioned brocades, stiff tulle and thick-ribbed ottoman silks this winter. It is the luxury fabric par excellence and nothing certainly could be more flattering to most women.

Smartest evening wraps for late summer show the velvet influence coming on. They are long and trailing with fur trim mostly of fox, sable, marten or chinchilla, and come in beautiful rich, dark tones of brown, purple, wine-red and green.

Capriote looks like fine velvet and is at its best in white, now being used for evening dresses and capes.

Tricollota is like finely knitted wool and, like most of these new velvety fabrics, has a self-patterned surface.

There is also a new material called velveteen which is very much like real velvet. In white, black, cel-gray or a very light shade of green it is used for day and evening wear.

If you're wise—you'll advertise.

BLACK PITCHES THIRD SHUT-OUT VICTORY, 5-0

The record attendance of a Lower Bucks County League game was broken at Hulmeville last night when the largest crowd of the season, estimated at 500, saw Howard Black hurl his third consecutive shut-out win, blanking the Odd Fellows, 5-0, and holding the losers to but two measly hits.

It was the tenth consecutive win for the Hulmeville nine (this counting the game forfeited by the Langhorne Giants), and the fifth straight shut-out victory. In the last 32 innings, the Hulmevilleites' pitching and fielding has been so great that no Lower Bucks County League team has been able to score on them. A victory for the proteges of Howard Black on Tuesday night will clinch the second half, as the Odd Fellows are now two full games behind the leaders.

Black was pitted against Joe Kohler in last night's duel, and for four innings the fray was nip and tuck with the ultimate winners holding a one-run edge. Suddenly the bats of the Hulmeville club began to sing out base hits and before the frame was over four tallies crossed the platter. The team behind Black aided him immensely by perfect fielding. Only three Oddies reached first base, two by singles and one as the result of a pass. Kohler's mates erred three times, two of these figuring in the winners' scoring.

The Hulmeville nine scored in the first. Harrison got a break when Still erred on his roller. Kohler wild pitched the runner to second and Bilger sacrificed him to third. Watson scored the baserunner with a clean hit to right.

The four tallies in the fourth sewed up the game. Bilger singled and Watson reached first on Beaton's error. Comly advanced the runners with a long fly to left. Black singled, scoring Bilger. Bruce's hard shot to right scored Black and Watson. Mende grounded out, but Haefer counted Bruce with a sharp hit to center.

Rockhill and Bruce played good ball for the winners, while F. Hibbs played a nice game for the Oddies.

THREE GAMES BOOKED FOR WEEK-END HERE

Tomorrow evening at 5.30 o'clock, the Jefferson A. C., of the Bristol Twilight League will play the Cubans, winners of the first half of the Bristol Suburban League and also leaders of the second half. It will mark the first meeting of any two clubs in the different circuits.

"Spike" Scordia will do the bill work for the Jeffs with McGlynn on the receiving end. "Jim" Spencer and "Andy" Spencer will be the batteries for the colored team.

On the Emmie diamond, Emmie A. A., with eight straight wins will meet the strong Chew Cardinals, of Philadelphia. Emmie has attempted to play this club for the past three weeks but has been unsuccessful in booking the nine.

Manager Black will use "Ike" Watson on the mound with Bruce catching. The remainder of the line-up will be Hibbs, Leigh, Rockhill, Comly, Bilger, Black and Still.

Game will begin at two-thirty o'clock.

On the Bristol Park field, State Road and Oak avenue, Bristol Park A. A. will meet the Crease A. A. from South Philadelphia. Rain has prevented the Park A. A. team from playing the past two weeks.

The fray is scheduled to begin at two-thirty o'clock.

OUT OVER ATLANTIC

HULL, England, Aug. 5.—(INS)—After delays caused by bad weather, John Grierson, British aviator, took off from here today on a trans-Atlantic flight by stages to New York. His amphibian plane soared into the air at 8.40 a. m.

DE RISI'S HURLING PUTS ST. ANN'S IN THE LEAD

"Mike" DeRisi's single with the bags loaded enabled the St. Ann's A. A. team to jump into first place in the Bristol Twilight League last night as the Saints nosed out the Damp Wash A. A., 2-1, on St. Ann's field. Edgely A. C. was beaten by the Hibernians and this with the awarding of a protest by President Landroth to the St. Ann's team made the change in the standing.

DeRisi's single brought a climax to one of the best hurling matches on St. Ann's field this season. The Washers were stubborn foes and played like champions. Every time the St. Ann's nine would attempt a rally, the Washers' defense tightened up and retired the side scoreless.

"Reds" Devine was the unfortunate twirler and he had but himself to blame. In the seventh he fanned DiTanna to begin the frame. DiBlassio waited and drew a pass. Pieo was also patient and also drew a pass. Devine was then taken out and Leighton went in. Leighton pitched too careful to Fields and passed him. Whyno, with two hits already to his credit, rolled to second and DiBlassio was late getting started for the plate being forced there. This was the second out and left the matter up to DeRisi. He looked two over in his characteristic manner and then skied a fly to left. Corrigan came in fast and attempted to make a shoestring catch which was his only hope, but the ball barely escaped his outstretched gloved hand for the single which won the game.

The "Saints" had taken the lead in the third when Pieo walked, stole second and came tearing home when Fields beat out a slow roller to third. Damp Wash tied it up in the fourth when Corrigan singled to center, went to second on Whyno's error and counted on Leighton's hit to center.

Edgely A. C. lost its most important game of the season on Sullivan's field last night as the Hibernians came out of its doldrums to defeat the former league-leaders by the close count of 5-4. It was the first Hibs' victory in five starts and came at the time when the first half champions were ready to crack completely.

The win also put an end to several fine pitching performances by "Pete" Firce, Edgely's star moundman. Firce was socked for four runs in the first frame. The Edgelyites tied the count by scoring twice in the fourth but in the seventh with no one out, John Dougherty made himself a committee of one to stop the Edgely A. C.'s winning streak.

He opened with a double and surprised everyone with a clean steal of third base. No one was expecting the steal as no one was out and a hit would have won the game anyhow. Rodgers then tapped a roller to short and Dougherty came tearing home to beat the throw and win the fray. Dougherty made a double and two singles to lead the hitters while Joe Roe was close behind with two doubles. F. Dougherty had two singles while Manzo made two hits for Edgely.

CORINTH THREATENED

ATHENS, Greece, Aug. 4.—(INS)—Ill-fated Corinth, ruined by an earthquake in 1929, was threatened with destruction again today when a raging fire broke out at 2 a. m. More than 400 houses and shops in the market center were destroyed before the fire finally was under control. For a time it had appeared the entire city would be reduced to ashes. Early estimates said damage exceeded $1,000,000.

GANDHI LOSES FREEDOM

POONA, India, Aug. 4.—(INS)—Mahatma Gandhi formally obtained his freedom today and lost it. The much-jailed spiritual leader, waging a continual fight against untouchability, was released from the Yeravda Jail. But no sooner were the prison gates thrown open than the heavy hand of the law fell on him again, because he flatly refused to abide by the terms dictated by the government. The Mahatma now faces a formal trial and a possible two-year prison sentence.

Beach Styles for Ladybirds

Temporarily abandoning the air for the ocean, Amy Mollison, famous British aviatrix, and Amelia Earhart Putnam, America's ace ladybird, display the latest things in beach pajamas as they stroll on the sands at Atlantic City, N. J. Mrs. Mollison seems completely recovered from the effects of her crash at Bridgeport, Conn.

Federal Agents Aid States In Drive on Kidnappers

WASHINGTON, D. C., Uncle Sam's heavy hand is already being felt by the kidnapping racketeers. The drive on these lowest of gangsters is being conducted by Joseph B. Keenan, Cleveland attorney, recently appointed Assistant Attorney General to direct the government campaign on rackets of all kinds.

The law passed by Congress following the kidnapping of the Lindbergh baby and generally known as the "Lindbergh" law is the weapon being used. Under this act any person transporting a kidnap victim from one state to another is guilty of a Federal offense. Likewise the postal laws are being used to entrap those who mail ransom letters.

Department of Justice operatives were active in the recent kidnapping of August Luer, aged banker of Alton, Ill. Their investigations resulted in the arrest of six and the confession of the leader of the mob.

Hamm Case Solved?

The latest coup of the government agents is in linking four Chicago gangsters with the kidnapping of William Hamm, Jr., wealthy St. Paul brewer. The mobsters, Roger Touhy, leader, Willie Sharkey, Gus Schaefer and Eddie McFadden, were arrested when their car, a rolling arsenal, was wrecked at Elkhorn, Wis. Bills found on Sharkey, known as Chicago's toughest mobster, were identified as part of the Hamm ransom money. Federal warrants were sworn out against the quartet, charging them with violation of the Lindbergh law and their trial at St. Paul is expected to be the first real test of the act. Government agents state they have evidence to prove the mob took the kidnaped man across the state line from Minnesota to a small town in Wisconsin, where he was kept hidden four days until the ransom was paid. The Touhy gang is also suspected of having engineered the kidnapping of John (Jake the Barber) Factor in Chicago, but government agents working on the case say they have been handicapped by Factor's refusal to identify the prisoners.

Caught McElroy Kidnappers

The Federal agents also played a prominent part in rounding up the gang that kidnaped and held Mary McElroy, daughter of the City Manager of Kansas City, Mo., prisoner for 30 hours until $30,000 ransom was paid. The young woman was abducted from the bathroom of the McElroy home by two armed men, one of whom, Walter McGee, has been sentenced to the electric chair. He is the first kidnaper in the country to be sentenced to death, abduction for ransom having been made a capital crime in Missouri following the Lindbergh kidnapping. McGee was captured in Amarillo, Tex., having been traced there by the government operatives. Seven others were indicted, of whom six are under arrest. Uncle Sam's sleuths are diligently seeking the suspect still at large.

To further the government's campaign Assistant Attorney General Keenan has urged the organization of a central agency comparable to England's Scotland Yard. "Meanwhile the efforts of the Department of Justice," he said, "will be directed to demonstrate to the racketeers, gangsters and kidnapers that they will not be permitted to ply their trade unmolested in violation of Federal laws, and whatever force may be necessary to bring about this end will be available and will be used for that purpose."

Uncle Sam is roused and he's a tough old gent to deal with when mad, as Al Capone can testify. That czar of gangdom is spending eleven years in the pen for failing to pay his income tax. Think of what Uncle Samuel will do to kidnapers!

Is There Any Limit?

By BURNLEY

If you are looking for something new under the sun, step into the sports world and hang around for a while. New things will be popping right under your eyes—just as the old boys are telling you that they are impossible. It does seem as if there is no end to the new records that are being made on the cinder paths. And don't forget that they are all "impossible," according to the oldsters. Who, for example, ever dreamed that the mile could be run in four minutes, seven and six-tenths seconds? It was impossible, of course, until young Jack Lovelock, whose New Zealand school teacher told him he would never be a real runner, stepped out and snapped the tape in just that time. And who ever thought that a 14-foot pole vault was possible? Well, it's been done more than once, and now they are talking about fourteen and a half. Will it never end? Take that Lovelock run—there never was anything like it. A combination of perfect conditions made that time possible. The track was just right, the competition was just right, the atmosphere was just right—and Lovelock's physical and mental condition was just right. A good many things contributed to that record-breaking run at Princeton. But who can tell when conditions will be just right again—and some other Bonny Bonthon will set a pace that will enable some other Jack Lovelock to run a mile in 4:06 or 4:04? Well, if you ask us—it's impossible! Is Lovelock's great mark the height of speed in the mile run? Is it possible to run a mile in 4:06 or 4:04? Well, if you ask us—it's impossible! record-breaker.
